

WE ARE HIRING

Trainee Psychological Wellbeing Practitioner (TPWP)

INVESTORS
IN PEOPLE | Silver

Here at Six Degrees Social Enterprise, we value every staff member and make a commitment to support the learning and development, access to training opportunities and well-being of our employees. In 2022, we were awarded Silver by Investors in People which illustrates that even during challenging times, we are able to remain reflective, focused and committed.

What makes us a great place to work at?

Feedback and reflections from staff:

"It feels a great place; one of the best places I've worked in terms of culture. Everyone is so positive and supportive. People are good at taking responsibility and getting on with their job."

"They are so good to work for. They are constantly trying to improve and challenge the status quo so it feels like we are always developing with the organisation."

"There's been a significant investment in a complex and sophisticated supervision system. This communicates a serious investment in peoples development."

We are looking for:

- Experience of working with people who have experienced physical or mental health problems and ability to develop positive therapeutic relationships with patients.
- An awareness and working understanding of NHS Talking Therapies and CBT based guided self-help management strategies and interventions.
- Ability to work face-face, virtually and deliver other modes of service delivery i.e. facilitate group work and CCBT programmes.
- An awareness and understanding of supporting equality and valuing diversity.
- A passion and enthusiasm for championing patient experience and supporting accessible referral pathways.
- Have passion and drive to progress with own professional development, sharing knowledge and skills within the team and reflective use of supervision.
- Degree Qualified (preferably health related, but not essential) and/or equivalent in relative experience.
